Yao Yi-lin, Vice Minister of Foreign Trade:

Both China and Papua New Guinea are developing countries and belong to the Third World. In recent years, personnel exchanges and trade contacts between the two countries have been growing steadily. The current visit to China of the distinguished guests from Papua New Guinea would make a positive contribution to the friendship and understanding between the two governments and the two peoples and would promote the constant development of their economic and trade relations.

Botswana

Joint Communique:

The government of the People's Republic of China firmly supports the just struggle carried on by the government of the Republic of Botswana to safeguard national independence and state sovereignty and develop the national economy.

The government of the Republic of Botswana recognizes the government of the People's Republic of China as the sole legal government representing the entire Chinese people, and Taiwan Province as an inalienable part of the territory of the People's Republic of China.

The two governments have agreed to develop friendly relations and cooperation between the two countries on the basis of the principles of mutual respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and peaceful co-existence.

("Joint Communique on the Establishment of Diplomatic Relations between People's Republic of China and the Republic of Botswana," NCNA-English, Peking, January 7, 1975 -- SRPCP 75-4/35)

Jen-min Jih-pao:

China is a developing socialist country belonging to the Third World. We resolutely support the just struggle of the African people, and we regard their victories as a support and encouragement to us. The establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Botswana will help bring us closer to the countries and people of Africa. We are convinced that the friendly cooperation between China and Botswana and the friendship between our two peoples will surely further develop through our joint efforts.

Congo

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

Both China and the Congo are developing countries belonging to the Third World. The people of China and the Congo have always encouraged and supported each other and forged a profound, militant friendship in the course of their struggle against colonialism and imperialism. We note with pleasure that new advances have been made in the relations of friendship and cooperation between China and the Congo in recent years. We are convinced that the current friendly visit to China by Prime Minister Henri Lopes will surely enhance the friendly relations and cooperation between the two countries and the friendship between the two peoples. We wish the distinguished Congolese guests a successful visit.

Teng Hsiao-ping, Vice Premier:

Both China and the Congo are developing countries belonging to the Third World. In their common struggle to combat imperialism and build their respective countries, the Chinese and Congolese peoples have always sympathized with and supported each other and have forged a profound friendship. The Congolese government and people have made valuable efforts in supporting the just cause of the Chinese people.

Chiao Kuan-hua, Minister of Foreign Affairs:

The Chinese people will always stand on the side of the African people and resolutely support the great African people in their just struggle to bury colonialism and racism and win the independence and liberation of the whole African continent.

Both China and the Gambia belong to the Third World. Our two peoples have always rendered each other support and encouragement in the protracted struggle against imperialism and colonialism. Recently, diplomatic relations were officially established between China and the Gambia. This major step has turned a new page in the history of the relations between our two countries. We are sure that the visit to China by Your Excellency and the other distinguished guests from the Gambia will enhance the mutual understanding and friendship of our two peoples and open up broad prospects for the development of friendly relations and cooperation between our two countries. We wish complete success to Your Excellency's Visit.

Malta

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

Both China and Malta are developing countries belonging to the Third World. In the past, our two countries had common experiences of being subjected to prolonged imperialist and colonialist oppression and exploitation. There exists a profound friendship between the two peoples. Today, the people of our two countries have strengthened unity and supported each other in the common struggle against imperialism, particularly superpower hegemonism. In recent years, the friendly relations and cooperation between China and Malta have developed constantly on the basis of the five principles of peacefully co-existence. We are convinced that Prime Minister Mintoff's current visit to China will surely further promote the friendly cooperation between China and Malta and deepen the friendship and understanding between our two peoples. We sincerely wish the distinguished Maltese guests a successful visit!

Li Hsien-nien, Vice-Premier:

China and Malta are both developing countries and face the common tasks of safeguarding national independence and developing the national economy. In the last years, the relations between the two countries and the friendship between the two peoples have developed satisfactorily. Prime Minister Mintoff's current visit to China will surely make a new contribution to further strengthening the friendship between our two countries.

Li Hsien-nien, Vice-Premier:

Although China and Malta are separated by many mountains and waters, our two peoples are linked by similar historical experiences. We are both developing countries and face the common tasks of safeguarding national independence and developing the national economy. Prime Minister Mintoff's successful visit to China in April 1972 opened up a new chapter in the friendly relations between China and Malta. In the last years, the relations between our two countries and the friendship between our two peoples have developed satisfactorily. We believe that Prime Minister Mintoff's current visit to China will surely make a new contribution to further strengthening the friendship between our two countries. We sincerely wish complete success to Mr. Prime Minister's visit.

Netherlands

Chiao Kuan-hua, Foreign Minister:

The relations between China and the Netherlands have developed considerably since the establishment of diplomatic relations at the level of charge d'affaires and particularly since the exchange of ambassadors in 1972. This is in accord with the desires and interests of both our peoples.

Although China and the Netherlands have different social systems and hold differing views on some international issues, both our peoples cherish independence and sovereignty and both our countries wish to develop our relations on the basis of the five principles of peaceful co-existence.

Portugal and Portuguese Africa

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The people of China and Mozambique have forged a profound friendship between them in the course of their common struggle against imperialism and colonialism. We will, as always, firmly stand on the side of the Mozambique people and the people of various countries in Africa, resolutely support their just struggle and take their victories as their support and inspiration to us. The current visit of President Samora to China will surely make new contributions to enhancing the friendship between the people of China and Mozambique. We wish President Samora's visit complete success.
